Co-laborers in Christ,

CJ and Shelley Hitz were the main speakers at our 2008 Winter Retreat at Camp Manatowagan in Saxton, PA on March 1, 2008. We, as the youth leaders and one youth pastor were impressed with their godly presentation of a sensitive subject that needed to be addressed with our youth. The youth culture today is driven by all forms of media. The teens take for “the gospel” what the media says about their appearance, needs, and activities. CJ and Shelley did not dictate what they should choose to watch, listen to, read, or participate in but presented the perspective of looking at these things through the filter of the Bible and through the screen of God’s commands to us. Shelley and CJ had break out sessions with girls and guys only to discuss personal appearance, hygiene, and relationship issues through the biblical context of our true beauty that comes from being a child of God. I would highly recommend specifically the “Media Talk 101” and “True Beauty” programs presented by this godly young couple but would not hesitate to have them present any program on any topic as it is clear to see that they desire to have young people understand topics from a godly worldview.

Sincerely,
Serving them because of Him,
