

To whom it may concern,

As the one who schedules these types of presentations for our school, I am cautious about the content to be presented. Most importantly I want our students to be challenged with the truth about the subject matter. So many young people today have bought into the marketing message of the media industry and don't realize how much it has affected them. The True Lies presentation by C.J. Hitz was informative and effective and our students talked about it for several days after.

Exposing the agenda behind the popular entertainment/ media culture is as important to our students as anything we do because of the influence it can have if left unchallenged. The True Lies presentation exposes this agenda with clear facts and gives some terrific alternatives so students can make better choices with their time and money.

Educators in schools and churches should take advantage of this opportunity to call attention to the truth about our popular media culture and see the healthy benefits of helping students reject the materialistic worldview behind it.

We highly recommend C.J. Hitz and the True Lies presentation to any school. We find it imperative in this age of self indulgence to give the Lord's perspective on things. We are thankful for those who will join the fight to maintain standards of behavior in the increasingly violent and self destructive times in which we live.

Most sincerely,
